Important voting rights win in East Ramapo School District, NY. Court finds that the at-large method of election discriminates against African American & Latino voters.

Seibel, J.

This case involves a challenge to the election system that the East Ramapo Central School District (the "District") uses to elect members of its Board of Education (the "Board"). Plaintiffs allege that the election system results in vote dilution - that is, that it affords black and Latino residents "less opportunity than other members of the electorate to participate in the political process and to elect representatives of their choice," Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 36 (1986) (internal quotation marks omitted) - in violation of section 2 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 ("VRA" or the "Act"), which provides, in pertinent part, that "[n]o voting qualification or prerequisite to voting or standard, practice, or procedure shall be imposed or applied by any State or political subdivision in a manner which results in a denial or abridgement of the right of any citizen of the United States to vote on account of race or color," 52 U.S.C. § 10301(a) ("Section 2"). Following a bench trial held on January 22, February 10-14, 18-21, and 24-27, and March 3, 4, and 24, 2020, I make the following findings of fact and conclusions of law.

The President of the United States is advocating deadly violence against those protesting in Minnesota.

Remember, he deems those behind the fatal Charlottesville hate protests 'very good people'.

Twitter has appropriately flagged this content for glorifying violence.

Election disinformation is a grave threat to democracy.

Glad to see @Twitter/@jack take long overdue action to flag content that stands to obstruct the ability of Americans to participate in our electoral process.

The phrase President Trump tweeted — "when the looting starts, the shooting starts" — was first used by Miami police chief Walter Headley in the 1960s, when he sent officers with shotguns and dogs to patrol black neighborhoods. "This is war," Headley said.

My statement on the death of George Floyd:

I want to share parts of the conversations I've had with friends over the past couple days about the footage of George Floyd dying face down on the street under the knee of a police officer in Minnesota.

The first is an email from a middle-aged African American businessman.

"Dude I gotta tell you the George Floyd incident in Minnesota hurt. I cried when I saw that video. It broke me down. The 'knee on the neck' is a metaphor for how the system so cavalierly holds black folks down, ignoring the cries for help. People don't care. Truly tragic."

Another friend of mine used the powerful song that went viral from 12-year-old Keedron Bryant to describe the frustrations he was feeling.

The circumstances of my friend and Keedron may be different, but their anguish is the same. It's shared by me and millions of others.

It's natural to wish for life "to just get back to normal" as a pandemic and economic crisis upend everything around us. But we have to remember that for millions of Americans, being treated differently on account of race is tragically, painfully, maddeningly "normal" – whether it's while dealing with the health care system, or interacting with the criminal justice system, or jogging down the street, or just watching birds in a park.

This shouldn't be "normal" in 2020 America. It can't be "normal." If we want our children to grow up in a nation that lives up to its highest ideals, we can and must be better.

It will fall mainly on the officials of Minnesota to ensure that the circumstances surrounding George Floyd's death are investigated thoroughly and that justice is ultimately done. But it falls on all of us, regardless of our race or station – including the majority of men and women in law enforcement who take pride in doing their tough job the right way, every day – to work together to create a "new normal" in which the legacy of bigotry and unequal treatment no longer infects our institutions or our hearts.

Dear Mr. Linkous, Chairman Day, Director Ledford, and Deputy Director Royston:

We at the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law write to express our concern regarding the large number of absentee ballots that have been rejected by the Gwinnett County Board of Registrations and Elections ("BORE") in advance of the November 2018 general election. The BORE's absentee ballot rejection rate is more than three times the average rejection rate across all of the counties in Georgia.[1]

Gwinnett County's absentee ballot rejection rate is higher than virtually all other Atlanta metro area counties. According to data from the Georgia Secretary of State's office, as of Thursday, October 11, Gwinnett County was responsible for approximately 40 percent of the rejected absentee ballots statewide, even though county residents cast only 12 percent of all absentee ballots in Georgia.[2] Similarly, as of today, October 15, Gwinnett County election officials had rejected 464 absentee ballots, hundreds more than any other Georgia county.[3]

Data from the Georgia Secretary of State's office indicates that the BORE has been rejecting absentee ballots cast by minority voters, particularly Asian-American and @NCAA argues in legal pleading that they do not have to pay student athletes because the 13th Amendment allows unpaid slave labor. Thanks to @ShaunKing for shining a light on this crisis.

That's new 🤔. I thought the 13th Amendment prohibited slavery and involuntary servitude aka unpaid labor.

There's a carveout for prison labor. Citing that case is a direct statement that the NCAA considers its athletes prison laborers - the only form of slave labor still lawful under the law.

🚨BREAKING: Victory in Virginia! Access to absentee ballots remains firmly in place for voters during the 2020 elections. No voter should have to choose between their health and their right to vote during the #pandemic.

A major defeat for the operatives at True the Vote.

He owned YaYa's BBQ in Louisville, KY. He was in the barbecue business for 30 yrs and aspired to open up a brick & mortar restaurant. He fed cops who came by for free.

He was shot and killed by police today. His life mattered. #BreonnaTaylor #DavidMcAtee

• white suptemacists abuse of social media to incite violence, recruit, fundraise and target victims

77 years since the last #curfew in NYC, yet the racism that ignited protests then--and the tactics used in response--haven't gone away. Our fight against police brutality and the senseless killing of Black people will continue until law enforcement addresses this stained history.

Evidence of politicians exploiting this historic moment. Those who actually sympathize with protestors would NOT also support oppressive voter ID laws. It's about more than just police brutality; it's also about the systemic silencing of Black voices.

The first part of this interaction can be seen here. This woman was not resisting arrest.

This warrior mentality that is so pervasive across law enforcement must change. Bellevue, Washington— we're watching.

Deeply disturbing watching this cop take down this woman and straddle his fully body weight against her. She cries for her husband as he 'chokes her out' and then presses his knee into the back of her neck.

We need a BAN on chokeholds and neck holds now.

18 U.S.C. 242 is the main federal statute used to prosecute cops who assault or kill. The statute requires that you prove they "willfully" used force to violate one's civil rights. This high burden of proof has made it tough to get juries to convict.

This MUST be reformed.

TITLE 18, U.S.C., SECTION 242

Whoever, under color of any law, statute, ordinance, regulation, or custom, willfully subjects any person in any State, Territory, Commonwealth, Possession, or District to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured or protected by the Constitution or laws of the United States, ... shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than one year, or both; and if bodily injury results from the acts committed in violation of this section or if such acts include the use, attempted use, or threatened use of a dangerous weapon, explosives, or fire, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both; and if death results from the acts committed in violation of this section or if such acts include kidnapping or an attempt to kidnap, aggravated sexual abuse, or an attempt to commit aggravated sexual abuse, or an attempt to kill, shall be fined under this title, or imprisoned for any term of years or for life, or both, or may be sentenced to death.

We need to defund the mass deployment of cops inside our nation's schools.

About 45% of public schools had at least one SRO during the 2017/18 school year. This feeds the school to prison pipeline and disproportionately harms Black and brown students.

Man who ran over protesters in Virginia is an admitted leader of the Ku Klux Klan.

These are the "very fine people" who, along with militarized cops, are wreaking havoc at otherwise peaceful demonstrations.

Fulton County officials cooperated with our demand for poll hour extension. The court's order requires that ANYONE standing in line at or before 9pm be afforded the right to vote today.

Call our Election Protection hotline at 866-OUR-VOTE w/ Qs or for help. #GAVoterSuppression

The Court, having considered the petition of the Board, finds that the Board is the proper party to bring said petition and that granting the Board's petition would carry out the intent of Georgia law that the polls be effectively open on Election Day for voting for a period of not less than twelve (12) hours.

Therefore, it is hereby ORDERED that all Fulton County precincts shall remain open for voting for all those voters in line by 9:00 P.M. on June 9, 2020.

SO ORDERED, this 9th day of June, 2020.

Re: ELECTION PROTECTION – REQUEST FOR EXTENSION OF GWINNETT COUNTY POLLING LOCATION HOURS

Dear Mr. Ludwiczak, Ms. Wilson and Ms. Royston:

We have received numerous calls regarding voting machines not being delivered at Gwinnett County polling locations for hours and reports of voters leaving without voting. County officials have publicly acknowledged that "…[s]ome Gwinnett County polling locations opened today without all of the polling equipment." An email from Supervisor Royston confirms that 26 polling places did not receive their equipment yesterday, and that some of the equipment was "in route" as of 8:15 am today.

The list of the polling places with problems are identified below:

1. Duluth City Hall, 3167 Main Street NW (Precinct 7): Late delivery of machines caused substantial delay.

2. Gwinnett School of Math, Science & Technology, 930 McElvaney Lane (Precinct 017): late delivery of printers resulted in delay requiring voters to utilize paper ballots;

What happened to Fulton and Gwinnett counties????

Smitten by Books Reviews ◆ Romance Author @be... · 1h
As they extended the hours for Cobb County, keep in mind:

Cobb County is approx 63% White.

Fulton County is 43.2% Black and 39.5% White

Gwinnett County is 36.1% White, 27.3% Black and 21.5% Hispanic or Latino.

I'm here in South Cobb at a primarily minority precinct. It's a mess here. The extensions are needed especially in the parts of Cobb with clear #VoterSuppressionInGeoriga

We heard from thousands of voters. In some instances, the Arizona-based vendor mailed the ballots to the wrong address. Others got the wrong ballot or did not get the inner ballot secrecy envelope. Some didn't get the ballot at all.

NEW— Minneapolis Police Chief Medaria Arradondo announces he's immediately withdrawing from police union contract negotiations.

This is important step forward. Many police unions are an obstacle to reform — they shield officers from discipline and provide cover for misconduct.

Chief Justice Roberts justified the court's evisceration of the Voting Rights Act in 2013 by saying, "Our country has changed." The voter suppression occurring throughout the country--seen yesterday in Georgia--refutes that claim.

OTD 1990, Barack #Obama is elected president of the @Harvard Law Review.

First Black Elected to Head Harvard's Law Review

By FOX BUTTERFIELD
Special to The New York Times

BOSTON, Feb. 5 — The Harvard Law Review, generally considered the most prestigious in the country, elected the first black president in its 104-year history today. The job is considered the highest student position at Harvard Law School.

The new president of the Review is Barack Obama, a 28-year-old graduate of Columbia University who spent four years heading a community development program for poor blacks on Chicago's South Side before enrolling in law school. His late father, Barack Obama, was a finance minister in Kenya and his mother, Ann Dunham, is an American anthropologist now doing fieldwork in Indonesia. Mr. Obama was born in Hawaii.

"The fact that I've been elected shows a lot of progress," Mr. Obama said today in an interview. "It's encouraging.

"But it's important that stories like overwhelm this individual student's achievement."

Mr. Obama was elected after a meeting of the review's 80 editors that convened Sunday and lasted until early this morning, a participant said.

Until the 1970's the editors were picked on the basis of grades, and the president of the Law Review was the student with the highest academic rank. Among these were Elliot L. Richardson, the former Attorney General, and Erwin Griswold, a dean of the Harvard Law School and Solicitor General under Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon.

That system came under attack in the 1970's and was replaced by a program in which about half the editors are chosen for their grades and the other half are chosen by fellow students after a special writing competition. The new system, disputed when it began, was meant to help insure that minority students became editors of The Law Review.

NY has one of the lowest turnout rates in the US.

NY is one of the ONLY states that doesn't allow:
- early voting
- no-excuse absentee voting
- Same Day Registration

Only state w/ fed & state primaries on different days

Time to bring NY into 21st century!

Pennsylvania is in that category too and I really can't understand it. No excuse for this, particularly in states that have inclement weather in November.

Beyonce issues open letter to KY Attorney General @DanielCameronAG calling for justice for Breonna Taylor. #JusticeForBreonna

Frankfort, Kentucky 40501

Dear Attorney General Cameron:

It has now been over three months since members of the Louisville Metro Police Department (LMPD) killed Breonna Taylor. Plainclothes officers with a "no-knock" warrant forced their way into her apartment, where she was asleep and unarmed. Moments later, the officers fired over twenty shots into Breonna Taylor's home, striking her at least eight times. While "Breonna's Law" passed in Louisville and federal legislation has been introduced that will also ban no-knock warrants, these small steps in the right direction are painful reminders that there has still been no justice for Breonna Taylor or her family.

Three months have passed -- and the LMPD's investigations have created more questions than answers. Their incident report states that Ms. Taylor suffered no injuries—yet we know she was shot at least eight times. The LMPD officers claim they announced themselves before forcing their way into Ms. Taylor's apartment—but her boyfriend who was with her, as well as several neighbors, all say that this is untrue.

Three months have passed -- and zero arrests have been made, and no officers have been fired. The LMPD's investigation was turned over to your office, and yet all of the officers involved in the shooting remain employed by the LMPD. Sgt. Jonathan Mattingly and Officers Myles Cosgrove and Brett Hankison must be held accountable for their actions.

Three months have passed – and Breonna Taylor's family still waits for justice. Ms. Taylor's family has not been able to take time to process and grieve. Instead, they have been working tirelessly to rally the support of friends, their community, and the country to obtain justice for Breonna.

Your office has both the power and the responsibility to bring justice to Breonna Taylor, and demonstrate the value of a Black woman's life. I urge you to use that power and:

1. Bring criminal charges against Jonathan Mattingly, Myles Cosgrove, and Brett Hankison.
2. Commit to transparency in the investigation and prosecution of these officers' criminal conduct.
3. Investigate the LMPD's response to Breonna Taylor's murder, as well the pervasive practices that result in the repeated deaths of unarmed Black citizens.

Don't let this case fall into the pattern of no action after a terrible tragedy. With every death of a Black person at the hands of the police, there are two real tragedies: the death itself, and the inaction and delays

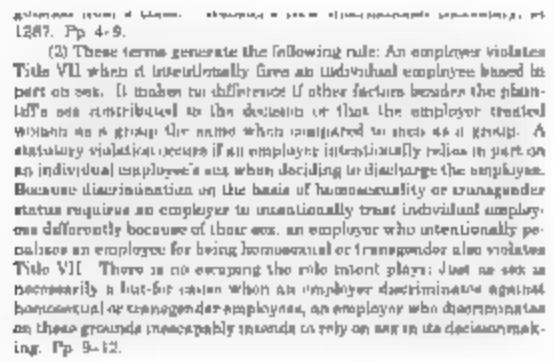
The SCOTUS holds: "An employer who fires an individual merely for being gay or transgender violates Title VII."



1287. Pp. 4–9.

(2) These terms generate the following rule: An employer violates Title VII when it intentionally fires an individual employee based in part on sex. It makes no difference if other factors besides the plaintiff's sex contributed to the decision or that the employer treated women as a group the same when compared to men as a group. A statutory violation occurs if an employer intentionally relies in part on an individual employee's sex when deciding to discharge the employee. Because discrimination on the basis of homosexuality or transgender status requires an employer to intentionally treat individual employees differently because of their sex, an employer who intentionally penalizes an employee for being homosexual or transgender also violates Title VII. There is no escaping the role intent plays: Just as sex is necessarily a but-for cause when an employer discriminates against homosexual or transgender employees, an employer who discriminates on these grounds inescapably intends to rely on sex in its decisionmaking. Pp. 9–12.

2 BOSTOCK v. CLAYTON COUNTY

Opinion of the Court

Sometimes small gestures can have unexpected consequences. Major initiatives practically guarantee them. In our time, few pieces of federal legislation rank in significance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964. There, in Title VII, Congress outlawed discrimination in the workplace on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. Today, we must decide whether an employer can fire someone simply for being homosexual or transgender. The answer is clear. An employer who fires an individual for being homosexual or transgender fires that person for traits or actions it would not have questioned in members of a different sex. Sex plays a necessary and undisguisable role in the decision, exactly what Title VII forbids.

Those who adopted the Civil Rights Act might not have anticipated their work would lead to this particular result. Likely, they weren't thinking about many of the Act's consequences that have become apparent over the years, including its prohibition against discrimination on the basis of motherhood or its ban on the sexual harassment of male employees. But the limits of the drafters' imagination supply no reason to ignore the law's demands. When the express terms of a statute give us one answer and extratextual considerations suggest another, it's no contest. Only the written word is the law, and all persons are entitled to its benefit.

Justice Alito issues 94+ page dissenting opinion joined by Thomas. Calls ruling a "radical decision. He includes an appendix of dictionary pages defining sex, and various federal forms and statutes that may be implicated by the ruling. His opposition today will define his legacy.

Although the Court does not want to think about the consequences of its decision, we will not be able to avoid those issues for long. The entire Federal Judiciary will be mired for years in disputes about the reach of the Court's reasoning.

The updating desire to which the Court succumbs no doubt arises from humane and generous impulses. Today, many Americans know individuals who are gay, lesbian, or transgender and want them to be treated with the dignity, consideration, and fairness that everyone deserves. But the authority of this Court is limited to saying what the law is.

The Court itself recognizes this:

> "The place to make new legislation . . . lies in Congress. When it comes to statutory interpretation, our role is limited to applying the law's demands as faithfully as we can in the cases that come before us." Ante, at 31.

It is easy to utter such words. If only the Court would live by them.

I respectfully dissent.

Justice Kavanaugh says outcome should have been the result of a hard-fought victory in the legislative process.

Disturbing that Kavanugh would accept an outcome in which transgender people are denied their rights while we wait for McConnell to fix this in the Senate "graveyard".

Instead of a hard-earned victory won through the democratic process, today's victory is brought about by judicial dictate—judges latching on to a novel form of living literalism to rewrite ordinary meaning and remake American law. Under the Constitution and laws of the United States, this Court is the wrong body to change American law in that way. The Court's ruling "comes at a great cost to representative self-government." Hively, 853 F. 3d, at 360 (Sykes, J., dissenting). And the implications of this Court's usurpation of the legislative process will likely reverberate in unpredictable ways for years to come.

Notwithstanding my concern about the Court's transgression of the Constitution's separation of powers, it is appropriate to acknowledge the important victory achieved today by gay and lesbian Americans. Millions of gay and lesbian Americans have worked hard for many decades to achieve equal treatment in fact and in law. They have exhibited extraordinary vision, tenacity, and grit—battling often steep odds in the legislative and judicial arenas, not to mention in their daily lives. They have advanced powerful policy arguments and can take pride in today's result. Under the Constitution's separation of powers, however, I believe that it was Congress's role, not this Court's, to amend Title VII. I therefore must respectfully dissent from the Absolutely but given Rayshard was acting in a violent manner its going to be very hard to convict this officer and if he is convicted BLM will lose a lot of support from the wider public because if feeds into the right wing narrative about the movement .

There needs to be a full and fair investigation. There also needs to be evaluation of whether officers needed to be deployed at all. We need to stop turning to law enforcement to resolve all needs in communities as they come with the risk of escalation, force and even death.

Hostile groups, like True the Vote, have raised millions to promote #votersuppression & are cluttering the courts w/ baseless claims to deny voters access to absentee ballots.

We're proclaiming victory as True The Vote voluntarily DISMISSED their baseless suit in Virginia today.

As a former prosecutor, what makes this case unusual is Officer Devin Bronsan's agreement to cooperate with the prosecution. The wall of silence usually shields and protects misconduct.

The DA can't remember one instance in which a cop agreed to cooperate.

Suspects have until Thursday to surrender themselves.

Officer Devin Bronsan has become a cooperating witness and will offer testimony in support of the prosecution of Rolfe.

As a former prosecutor, what makes this case unusual is Officer Devin Bronsan's agreement to cooperate with the prosecution. The wall of silence usually shields and protects misconduct.

The DA can't remember one instance in which a cop agreed to cooperate.

Americans deserve a justice system that reflects the racial diversity of the communities they serve. This helps increase confidence in the process. We need more of this diversity in prosecutor offices across the country.

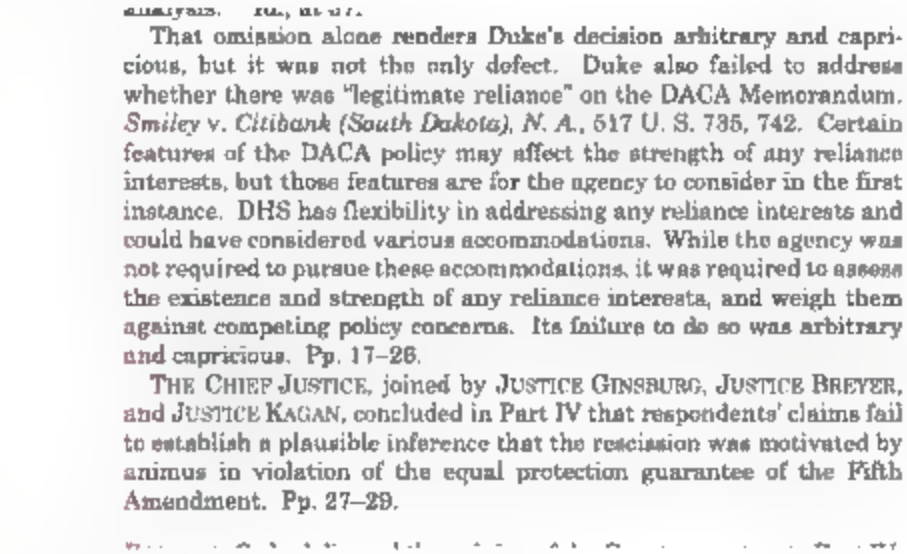
BREAKING: #SCOTUS issues 5-4 ruling against Trump administration in case involving #DACA. Court, in ruling issued by Roberts, find's decision to terminate program to be both arbitrary and capricious.

Important victory for 700K DACA recipients, and their families and communities.



That omission alone renders Duke's decision arbitrary and capricious, but it was not the only defect. Duke also failed to address whether there was "legitimate reliance" on the DACA Memorandum. Smiley v. Citibank (South Dakota), N. A., 517 U. S. 735, 742. Certain features of the DACA policy may affect the strength of any reliance interests, but those features are for the agency to consider in the first instance. DHS has flexibility in addressing any reliance interests and could have considered various accommodations. While the agency was not required to pursue these accommodations, it was required to assess the existence and strength of any reliance interests, and weigh them against competing policy concerns. Its failure to do so was arbitrary and capricious. Pp. 17–26.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE, joined by JUSTICE GINSBURG, JUSTICE BREYER, and JUSTICE KAGAN, concluded in Part IV that respondents' claims fail to establish a plausible inference that the rescission was motivated by animus in violation of the equal protection guarantee of the Fifth Amendment. Pp. 27–29.

Sotomayor issues a concurring opinion noting decision to terminate DACA may have ALSO been motivated by animus.

She notes Trump statements referring to undocumented people as "animals" responsible for "the drugs, the gangs, the cartels, the crisis of smuggling and trafficking ditionally quote President Trump's 2017 statement comparing undocumented immigrants to "animals" responsible for "the drugs, the gangs, the cartels, the crisis of smuggling and trafficking, [and] MS13." 298 F. Supp. 3d 1304, 1314 (ND Cal. 2018) (internal quotation marks omitted). The plurality brushes these aside as "unilluminating," "remote in time," and having been "made in unrelated contexts." Ante, at 28.

But "nothing in our precedent supports [the] blinkered approach" of disregarding any of the campaign statements as remote in time from later-enacted policies. Trump v. Hawaii, 585 U. S. ___, ___, n. 3 (2018) (SOTOMAYOR, J., dissenting) (slip op., at 11, n. 3). Nor did any of the statements arise in unrelated contexts. They bear on unlawful migration from Mexico—a keystone of President Trump's campaign and a policy priority of his administration—and, according to respondents, were an animating force behind the rescission of DACA. Cf. ibid. (noting that Presidential Proclamation No. 9645, 82 Fed. Reg. 45161 (2017), which barred entry of individuals from several Muslim-majority countries, was an outgrowth of the President's campaign statenow plays in our constitutional system should consider what has happened in these cases. Early in the term of the current President, his administration took the controversial step of attempting to rescind the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program. Shortly thereafter, one of the nearly 700 federal district court judges blocked this rescission, and since then, this issue has been mired in litigation. In November 2018, the Solicitor General filed petitions for certiorari, and today, the Court still does not resolve the question of DACA's rescission. Instead, it tells the Department of Homeland Security to go back and try again. What this means is that the Federal Judiciary, without holding that DACA cannot be rescinded, has prevented that from occurring during an entire Presidential term. Our constitutional system is not supposed to work that way.

I join JUSTICE THOMAS's opinion. DACA presents a delicate political issue, but that is not our business. As JUSTICE THOMAS explains, DACA was unlawful from the start, and that alone is sufficient to justify its termination. But even if DACA were lawful, we would still have no basis for overturning its rescission. First, to the extent DACA repre-

The AG has asked for "patience" but it's been almost 3 months since Breonna Taylor was killed. The office must move with all deliberate speed to hold those accountable for her death accountable now.

As the demand for #PoliceReformNow gains momentum, some of the most resistant voices to reform have been the leaders of police unions themselves.

We must confront the ways in which police unions act as an obstacle to reform.

I have not resigned, and have no intention of resigning, my position, to which I was appointed by the Judges of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. I will step down when a presidentially appointed nominee is confirmed by the Senate. Until then, our investigations will move forward without delay or interruption. Barr now says Trump has fired Berman.

A short while ago, Trump told press this is Barr's department and he's not involved.

Barr no longer claiming he's putting in NJ US Attorney as replacement but will instead deem Berman's deputy the new acting head.

A lying Attorney General.

June 20, 2020

Mr. Geoffrey S. Berman
United States Attorney's Office
1 St. Andrews Plaza
New York, New York 10007

Dear Mr. Berman:

I was surprised and quite disappointed by the press statement you released last night. As we discussed, I wanted the opportunity to choose a distinguished New York lawyer, Jay Clayton, to nominate as United States Attorney and was hoping for your cooperation to facilitate a smooth transition. When the Department of Justice advised the public of the President's intent to nominate your successor, I had understood that we were in ongoing discussions concerning the possibility of your returning to the Department or Administration in one of the other senior positions we discussed, including Assistant Attorney General for the Civil Division and Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. While we advised the public that you would leave the U.S. Attorney's office in two weeks, I still hoped that your departure could be amicable.

Unfortunately, with your statement of last night, you have chosen public spectacle over public service. Because you have declared that you have no intention of resigning, I have asked the President to remove you as of today, and he has done so. By operation of law, the Deputy United States Attorney, Audrey Strauss, will become the Acting United States Attorney, and I anticipate that she will serve in that capacity until a permanent successor is in place. See 28 U.S.C. 541(c).

To the extent that your statement reflects a misunderstanding concerning how you may be displaced, it is well-established that a court-appointed U.S. Attorney is subject to removal by the President. See United States v. Solomon, 216 F. Supp. 835, 843 (S.D.N.Y. 1963) (recognizing that the "President may, at any time, remove the judicially appointed United States Attorney"); see also United States v. Hilario, 218 F.3d 19, 2[illegible] (1st Cir. 2[illegible]) (same). Indeed, the court's appointment power has been upheld only because the Executive retains the authority to supervise and remove the officer.

Your statement also wrongly implies that your continued tenure in the office is necessary to ensure that cases now pending in the Southern District of New York are handled appropriately. This is obviously false. I fully expect that the office will continue to handle all cases in the normal course and pursuant to the Department's applicable standards, policies, and guidance. Going forward, if any actions or decisions are taken that office supervisors conclude are improper interference with a case, that information should be provided immediately to Michael Horowitz, the Department of Justice's Inspector General, whom I am authorizing to review any such claim. The Inspector General's monitoring of the situation will provide additional confidence that all cases will continue to be

The Minnesota legislature just ended a special session without passing a single #PoliceReform bill.

The state house passed numerous bills that stalled in the senate.

The Senate leader said "I think we could all benefit from a breather."

The question is whether standing in line by 6pm means standing in the long car line waiting to access the parking lot at the SINGLE voting center in Jefferson County, KY today.

Shameful to see so many people locked out from voting. This is why voters need and deserve options.

Major problems across Westchester County but crickets from elected officials when it comes to demanding accountability from the Board of Elections. BOE needs a change in leadership before November, lest more suppression continues unabated.

This is Exhibit A when it comes to #VoterSuppression in America today. It's outrageous and should never be tolerated.

Mayor Q @QuintonLucasKC
I made a video this morning about the importance of voting and then got turned away because I wasn't in the system even though I've voted there for 11 years, including for myself four times! Go figure, but that's okay. We'll be back later today! #Vote #KCMO

Why is it even necessary to register? In many countries people automatically have the right to vote at the polling place nearest to their legal residence. Having to register weeks in advance sounds like asking for permission, which is very much against the spirit of democracy

Texas never fails in terms of its hostility towards the right to vote. This primary season, we saw voters casting ballots close to 3 a.m. in the morning. It would be INSANE for Texas to not voluntarily provide voters who fear contracting COVID access to absentee ballots.

As #COVID cases spike across the country, remember that the U.S. Department of Justice has been busy filing frivolous briefs in courts across the country opposing state restrictions designed to protect public health.

This administration's response to #COVID19 has been a FAILURE protect individual liberties, and the integrity of a cohesive national economy for all 50 States and all Americans.

The facts alleged suggest that Michigan has imposed arbitrary and irrational limits on Plaintiffs that, if established, could violate the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The facts alleged also raise serious questions, particularly at this stage of the State's response to COVID-19, whether the putative local benefit of imposing these restrictions on Plaintiffs' economic activity outweighs the harm to interstate commerce. As the President and many States have recognized, the onerous restrictions on civil liberty that Americans have tolerated to slow the spread of COVID-19 cannot continue forever, and the Constitution will not allow them to do so.

These include its determination that Louisiana's law poses a "substantial obstacle" to women seeking an abortion; its determination that the law offers no significant health-related benefits; and its determination that the law consequently imposes an "undue burden" on a woman's constitutional right to choose to have an abortion. The statute creating the CFPB said the agency's director could only be "fired for cause." SCOTUS ruled that that provision is unconstitutional, so instead of striking down the whole law, they just ruled that the CFPB's director can be removed at will by the President, too.

BREAKING: Supreme Court REJECTS Louisiana law intended to shutter abortion clinics across state

Court finds Act 620, which sought to impose burdensome admitting privileges restrictions, unconstitutional. Breyer authors ruling joined by 3. Roberts concurs on stare decisis grounds

VI

Conclusion

We conclude, in light of the record, that the District Court's significant factual findings—both as to burdens and as to benefits—have ample evidentiary support. None is "clearly erroneous." Given the facts found, we must also uphold the District Court's related factual and legal determinations. These include its determination that Louisiana's law poses a "substantial obstacle" to women seeking an abortion; its determination that the law offers no significant health-related benefits; and its determination that the law consequently imposes an "undue burden" on a woman's constitutional right to choose to have an abortion. We also agree with its ultimate legal conclusion that, in light of these findings and our precedents, Act 620 violates the Constitution.

Trump Amplifies 'White Power' on Twitter

By MICHAEL D. SHEAR

WASHINGTON — President Trump on Sunday retweeted a video of one of his supporters yelling "White power!," once again using the vast reach of his social media platforms to inflame racial divisions in a nation roiled by weeks of protests about police brutality against black people and demands for social justice reforms. The edited racist video shows a white man riding in a golf cart bearing "Trump 2020" signs during "America First" and it appears to be an angry clash between the president and race between white residents of a Florida retirement community. Mr. Trump later posting it.

In response to a protester who shouted, "Where's your white power?" and other taunts, the man in the cart pumps his fist in response and says "White power!" The two-minute video contains profane exchanges between protesters and other drivers riding on more Russonello contributed reporting.

John R. Bolton, the former national security adviser who just released a scathing book about Mr. Trump, said on Sunday that the president's inattention to detail made it possible that he did not notice the racist comments.

"He doesn't pay attention to a lot of things," Mr. Bolton said on "State of the Union." "It's entirely possible that he tweeted this video because he saw the sign, I think it was in the first go-kart that said the Trump 2020 or something like that. That's all he needed to see. Not paying attention. Not considering all the implications of information he gets."

But Mr. Bolton added, "It may be that you can draw a conclusion that he heard it, and it was racist, and he tweeted it to promote the message. It's a legitimate conclusion to draw."

Either way, the president's initial decision to approvingly share the blatant support for white supremacy was the latest example being racists and holding signs calling the president a bigot.

In his tweet, Mr. Trump did not specifically refer to the man who yelled "white power." But his reference to "the great people of The Villages" was an eerie echo of his comments in the summer of 2017, when he responded to deadly violence by white supremacists in Charlottesville, Va., by saying there were "very fine people on both sides."

Former Vice President Joseph R. Biden Jr., the presumptive Democratic presidential nominee, invoked the president's comments about Charlottesville in response to the video on Sunday.

"We're in a battle for the soul of the nation — and the President has picked a side," Mr. Biden tweeted.

Mr. Trump has repeatedly denied that he was expressing support for white supremacy, saying "both sides" comments

Efforts to affirmatively further fair housing (AFFH) are about overcoming historic patterns of segregation, promoting fair housing and fostering inclusive communities. Ending AFFH = endorsing segregation.

The 13th Amendment outlawed slavery —with one big caveat: "except as a punishment for a crime." For a century and half, that's been used to re-enslave American citizens (disproportionately black men). So I'm introducing a Constitutional amendment to end this abomination.

This loophole was used to force Black prisoners, many picked up for Black-only "crimes" like loitering, to work for free after Reconstruction. Sometimes in the same fields they worked when enslaved. In 1898, 73% of Alabama's state budget came from selling the labor of prisoners.

Senator Jeff Merkley @SenJeffMerkley · 11m

Still today ~1 million prisoners, many Black & Brown, work for less than $1/hour or even nothing at all. And of course, many of those are in for non-violent drug crimes. It's time to end this system of forced, unpaid labor rooted in our history of slavery & racism. More to come.

What happened to her, and to so many victims of sexual harassment and assault in the military, is utterly unacceptable.

We need an independent investigation. Thank you @RepSylviaGarcia for leading the charge.

I want them to understand our anger. I want them to be afraid.

How can our great society tolerate the continued brutalization of its citizens by crazed misfits? Criminals must be told that their CIVIL LIBERTIES END WHEN AN ATTACK ON OUR SAFETY BEGINS!

So now women can't receive basic reproductive health care if their employers view birth control differently than they do. Is this "religious freedom"? Is this "justice for all"? At its core this is not about religion - it's about disempowering women.

In a 5-4 ruling by Gorsuch, #SCOTUS rules that Oklahoma did not have jurisdiction to prosecute an Indian who committed an offense on the Muscogee (Creek) Nation reservation in eastern Oklahoma.

An important win that recognizes the inherent sovereignty of Indian Country.

The federal government promised the Creek a reservation in perpetuity. Over time, Congress has diminished that reservation. It has sometimes restricted and other times expanded the Tribe's authority. But Congress has never withdrawn the promised reservation. As a result, many of the arguments before us today follow a sadly familiar pattern. Yes, promises were made, but the price of keeping them has become too great, so now we should just cast a blind eye. We reject that thinking. If Congress wishes to withdraw its promises, it must say so. Unlawful acts, performed long enough and with sufficient vigor, are never enough to amend the law. To hold otherwise would be to elevate the most brazen and longstanding injustices over the law, both rewarding wrong and failing those in the right.

The judgment of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Oklahoma is with persons or activities under criminal investigation can absolve a President of such an important public duty. Supreme Court holds that Trump is NOT "absolutely immune from state criminal subpoenas" and finds that Cy Vance need not show a "heightened standard of need"

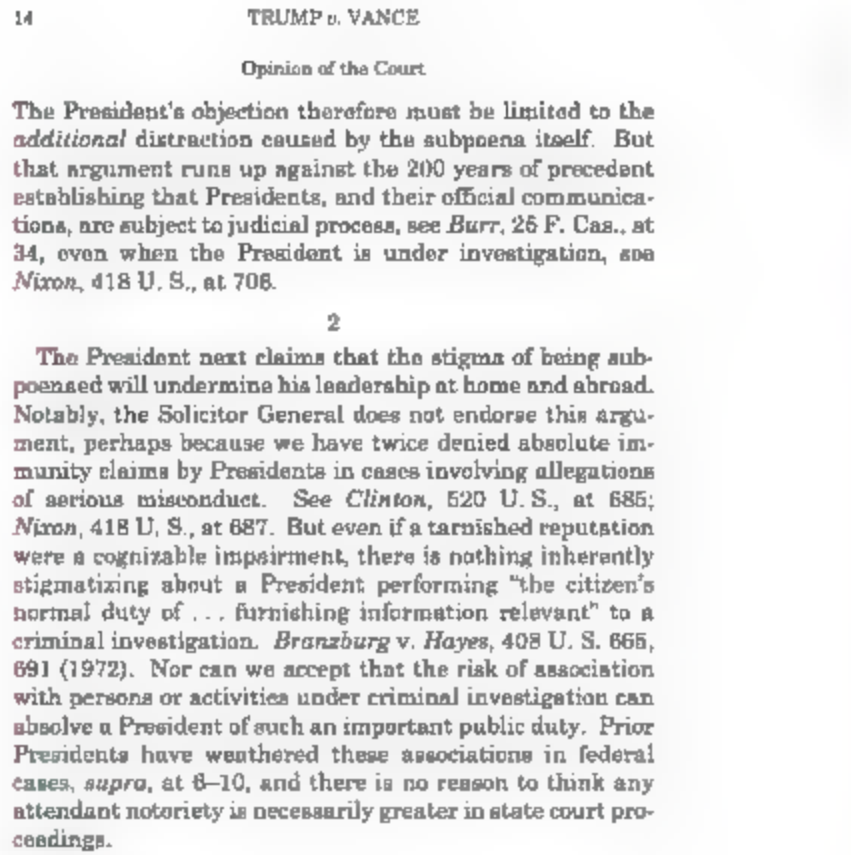
Case now sent back to lower court where Trump can essentially come up with new arguments. This process will run the clock



14 TRUMP v. VANCE

Opinion of the Court

The President's objection therefore must be limited to the additional distraction caused by the subpoena itself. But that argument runs up against the 200 years of precedent establishing that Presidents, and their official communications, are subject to judicial process, see Burr, 25 F. Cas., at 34, even when the President is under investigation, see Nixon, 418 U. S., at 706.

The President next claims that the stigma of being subpoenaed will undermine his leadership at home and abroad. Notably, the Solicitor General does not endorse this argument, perhaps because we have twice denied absolute immunity claims by Presidents in cases involving allegations of serious misconduct. See Clinton, 520 U. S., at 685; Nixon, 418 U. S., at 687. But even if a tarnished reputation were a cognizable impairment, there is nothing inherently stigmatizing about a President performing "the citizen's normal duty of . . . furnishing information relevant" to a criminal investigation. Branzburg v. Hayes, 408 U. S. 665, 691 (1972). Nor can we accept that the risk of association with persons or activities under criminal investigation can absolve a President of such an important public duty. Prior Presidents have weathered these associations in federal cases, supra, at 6–10, and there is no reason to think any attendant notoriety is necessarily greater in state court proceedings.

Not a fair comparison, one went through Federal Criminal Justice System and the other went through the City/State criminal Justice System. Will concede that both are completely unfair on their own terms.

Dear Senator Thurmond:

I write to express my sincere opposition to the confirmation of Jefferson B. Sessions as a federal district court judge for the Southern District of Alabama. My professional and personal roots in Alabama are deep and lasting. Anyone who has used the power of his office as United States Attorney to intimidate and chill the free exercise of the ballot by citizens should not be elevated to our courts. Mr. Sessions has used the awesome powers of his office in a shabby attempt to intimidate and frighten elderly black voters. For this reprehensible conduct, he should not be rewarded with a federal judgeship.

I regret that a long-standing commitment prevents me from appearing in person to testify against this nominee. However, I have attached a copy of my statement opposing Mr. Sessions' confirmation and I request that my statement as well as this letter be made a part of the hearing record.

I do sincerely urge you to oppose the confirmation of Mr. Sessions.

Sincerely,
Coretta Scott King

After 87 years, Washington, D.C. will retire the Redskins name and logo.

This is an important victory for Native American movement leaders who have fought to end the use of a racist name that has caused emotional violence and significant harm to Native peoples.

Glad they're changing it. Having a racial epithet team name in 2020 makes the whole league and the fans that support it look bad. That said, it's still amazing just how little effort it took on Fed Ex and Nike's part to make it happen. They couldn't have done this years ago?

Georgia citizen's arrests laws have a sordid and racist history. They were used to justify the lynching of Black people. And it was used recently by racists who killed Ahmaud Arbery.

It's time to put these laws to rest.

Our Surgeon General acknowledges that Black people wearing masks, in a context of over-policing, can literally prove fatal. This is TRUTH.

That said, the federal gov't must do its job -->
1) mandate action to save lives during a pandemic
2) address the police violence crisis

Trump revoking rule banning international students from U.S. if their school is only offering online courses.

A reminder about this administration's reckless and haphazard approach to policy --> bans and rules are put in place with little regard for their lawfulness or impact.

NEW- The Supreme Court failed to lift a federal appeals court's order that blocks some Floridians with criminal histories from voting in an upcoming primary.

Justice Sotomayor observes in her dissent that this will BLOCK thousands of eligible voters from voting.

JUSTICE SOTOMAYOR, with whom JUSTICE GINSBURG and JUSTICE KAGAN join, dissenting from denial of application to vacate stay.

This Court's order prevents thousands of otherwise eligible voters from participating in Florida's primary election simply because they are poor. And it allows the Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit to disrupt Florida's election process just days before the July 20 voter-registration deadline for the August primary, even though a preliminary injunction had been in place for nearly a year and a Federal District Court had found the State's pay-to-vote scheme unconstitutional after an 8-day trial. I would grant the application to vacate the Eleventh Circuit's stay.

I

This case implicates the "'fundamental political right' to vote." Purcell v. Gonzalez, 549 U. S. 1, 4 (2006) (per curiam). In 2018, the citizens of Florida amended their State Constitution to restore this basic right to persons with felony convictions who had completed "'all terms'" of their sentences. See Jones v. Governor of Fla., 950 F. 3d 795, 800 (CA11 2020) (Jones I). Florida's Legislature and high court have interpreted the amendment to condition voting eligibility on payment of all fines, fees, and restitution imposed ceed. Because the parties' rights and the legal framework had been well established, it was error to for the Eleventh Circuit to reverse course in an unexplained stay order right before an election.

This Court's inaction continues a trend of condoning disfranchisement. Ironically, this Court has wielded Purcell as a reason to forbid courts to make voting safer during a pandemic, overriding two federal courts because any safety-related changes supposedly came too close to election day. See Republican National Committee v. Democratic National Committee, 589 U. S. ___ (2020) (per curiam). Now, faced with an appellate court stay that disrupts a legal status quo and risks immense disfranchisement—a situation that Purcell sought to avoid—the Court balks.

I respectfully dissent.

SCOTUS just denied Florida voters' request for relief from the 11th Circuit's stay in the #Amendment4 case. This means FL's pay-to-vote system stays in place for now, leaving almost a million people unable to vote because of outstanding fines and fees. A bad day for democracy.

SOTOMAYOR, J., dissenting

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

No. 19A1071

BONNIE RAYSOR, ET AL. v. RON DESANTIS, GOVERNOR OF FLORIDA, ET AL.

ON APPLICATION TO VACATE STAY

[July 16, 2020]

The application to vacate stay presented to JUSTICE THOMAS and by him referred to the Court is denied.

In 2018, we were so honored to celebrate John Lewis at our annual #Higginbotham gala.

His bravery and sacrifice putting his body and his freedom on the line as an activist and over three decades as a lawmaker will never be forgotten.

This week I will reintroduce the bipartisan Voting Rights Advancement Act to name it after my hero, John Lewis.

The Senate bill w/ 46 cosponsors would restore vital voter protections that John fought so hard for over the yrs.—protections that were gutted by SCOTUS in 2013.

Official account for the 53rd Mayor of the City of Portland, Oregon. (Pronouns: He/Him/His)

□□□□□ 2009 □□□□□□□□

Mayor Ted Wheeler
@tedwheeler

Today, Mayors from around the country took a stand against unilateral federal intervention in our cities, calling for immediate removal of the President's "Rapid Deployment Unit" squads and for a congressional investigation of their unconstitutional terror tactics.

The Honorable William Barr
Attorney General
U.S. Department of Justice
Washington, DC 20530

The Honorable Chad Wolf
Acting Secretary
Department of Homeland Security
Washington, DC 20528

Dear Attorney General Barr and Acting Secretary Wolf:

We write to express our deep concern and objection to the deployment of federal forces in the cities, as these forces are conducting law enforcement activities without coordination or authorization of local law enforcement officials.

The unilateral deployment of these forces into American cities is unprecedented and violates fundamental constitutional principles and tenets of federalism. As you are well aware, President Trump's deployment of federal forces in Seattle's "Chaz" or "Chop" zone, a peaceful protest in Chicago's "Little Village" neighborhood, and in Portland, Oregon, where protesters have gathered nightly for more than 50 consecutive days, are examples of the President's misguided and illegal actions. In Washington, DC, outside Lafayette Park, a similar action was taken by federal law enforcement against peaceful protesters in the vicinity of DC's approximately [illegible] Secretary of Homeland Security Ken Cuccinelli said in recent days that the administration intends "to continue not just in Portland but in any of the locations that we're responsible for around the country." This abuse of power cannot continue.

Deployment of federal troops in the absence of any request from local officials is unprecedented and unacceptable. While U.S. Marshals have had jurisdiction within federal courthouses for decades, it is unacceptable and chilling that this administration has formed and deployed the U.S. Department of Homeland Security Rapid Deployment Unit and is revoking federal authorities in order to crowd control on the streets and arrest individuals. In Portland, these actions have escalated events and increased the risk of violence against both civilians and local law enforcement officers.

In Portland, federal forces have used weapons of force against protesters on a nightly basis, including shooting one individual in the head with a munition, reportedly fracturing his skull. Others "snatched" protesters off the street without proper identification and placed them in an unmarked vehicle. These tactics violate the First and Fourth Amendments. Not to mention basic

In many of the cities our communities have expressed calls for law enforcement, including identification of officials' badges, unidentified body camera footage, among many other constitutional safeguards. These reports are also blatantly disregarded by federal forces. In most cities, there is also independent oversight of use of force policies and officers who are outside of policy. Federal officers have not been trained for extreme crowd control, including with armored management and de-escalation techniques. There is no oversight of the actions of federal forces. Importantly, in Portland they do not even appear to be complying with a federal court order regarding the use of tear gas and other crowd control tools. These actions also jeopardize the many important ways federal and local law enforcement must work together to protect our cities and country.

Furthermore, it is concerning that federal law enforcement is being deployed for political purposes. The President and his administration continually attack racial, ethnic, and religiously diverse communities for campaign fodder. Their words and actions have created an environment where and Trump says DOJ will immediately "surge" federal law enforcement (FBI, DHS, ATF, DEA) into Chicago & other cities.

This marks a dangerous phase of the Trump presidency. He will face legal challenge but what happens to Americans between now and then?

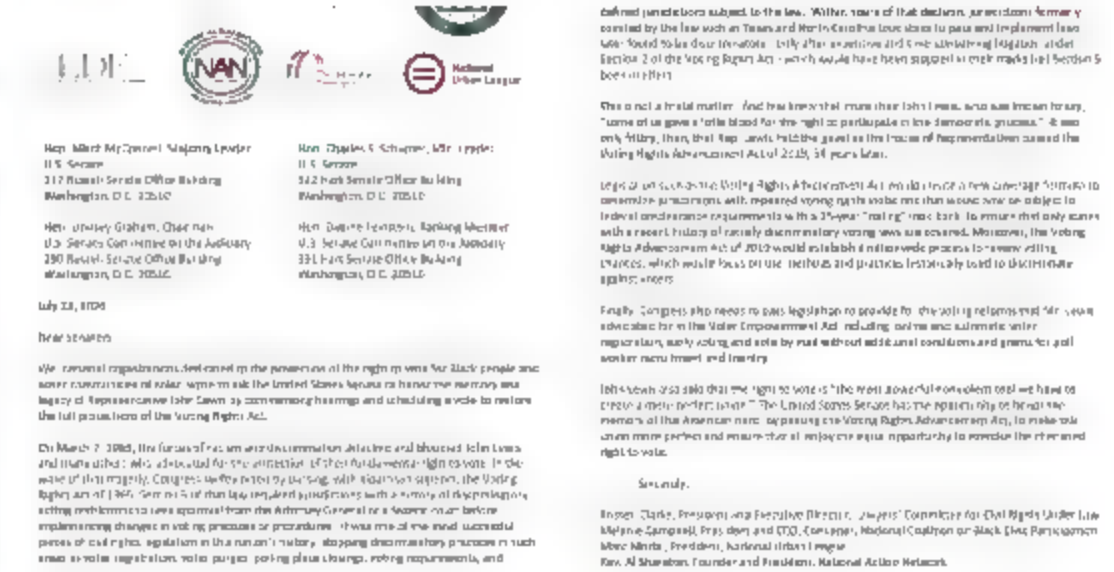
NEW: The Senate has a historic opportunity to honor the life and legacy of John Lewis by acting now to restore the Voting Rights Act.

I joined @coalitionbuildr @MARCMORIAL @Sifill_LDF @DerrickNAACP @TheRevAl @vanitaguptaCR in calling for Mitch McConnell to commence hearings now.



Dear Senators

We commend the House of Representatives for passage of the John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act of 2019, H.R. 4. This bipartisan legislation would restore the Voting Rights Act to its full strength in the wake of the Supreme Court's 2013 decision in Shelby County v. Holder. In the absence of this legislation, Congress will be powerless to prevent the implementation of discriminatory voting laws in states with a history of discrimination.

This is not a trivial matter. And we know that more than John Lewis, who was known to say, "some of us gave a little blood for the right to participate in the democratic process." It was only 4 days, then, that Rep. Lewis held the gavel as the House of Representatives passed the Voting Rights Advancement Act of 2019, 54 years later.

Legislation to restore the Voting Rights Act would require a new coverage formula to determine jurisdictions with repeated voting rights violations that would now be subject to federal preclearance requirements with a 25-year "look back" to ensure that only states with a recent history of racially discriminatory voting laws are covered. Moreover, the Voting Rights Advancement Act of 2019 would establish nationwide protections to prevent voting practices, which would focus on the methods and practices historically used to discriminate against voters.

Finally, Congress also needs to pass legislation to provide for the voting reforms that are long overdue for in the Voter Empowerment Act, including online and automatic voter registration, early voting and vote by mail without additional conditions and grants for poll worker recruitment and training.

John Lewis once said that the right to vote is "the most powerful nonviolent tool we have to create a more perfect union." The United States Senate has the opportunity to honor the memory of the American hero by passing the Voting Rights Advancement Act, to make our union more perfect and ensure for all Americans equal opportunity to exercise the most sacred right to vote.

Sincerely,

In this deeply sorrowful moment of loss, I find hope for our future with the news that Congressman John Lewis, Alabama's native son, will be welcomed into Alabama's capital in Montgomery, to lie in state. What an incredible tribute to welcome John home.

The irony that John should be granted this highest honor after being barred entry into the capital and the violence of Bloody Sunday speaks to his lifetime of dedicated service and activism.

SECRETARY CARSON TERMINATES 2015 AFFH RULE

Removal of rule returns power to localities to [illegible] to advance fair housing nationwide

WASHINGTON – U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Secretary Ben Carson today announced the Department will ultimately terminate the Obama Administration's Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing (AFFH) regulation issued in 2015, which proved to be complicated, costly, and ineffective— so much so that Secretary Carson essentially removed its burden on communities by suspending the regulation's 92 question grading tool in January 2018.

This brand-new rule, called Preserving Community and Neighborhood Choice, defines fair housing broadly to mean housing that, among other attributes, is affordable, safe, decent, free of unlawful discrimination, and accessible under civil rights laws. It then defines "affirmatively furthering fair housing" to mean any action rationally related to promoting any of the above attributes of fair

Most Americans have also seen what seems to be private contractors, dressed as federal police, snatching Americans, who were not at the Federal sites, into unidentified vans. Why doesn't the lying Press Sec show the peaceful moms being attacked with tear gas?

Today marks what would have been Emmett Till's 79th birthday - an appropriate day to blast Rand Paul for single-handedly BLOCKING Congress from final passage of the #EmmettTill Antilynching Act in June.

Paul's obstruction is disgraceful.

Today Emmett Till should be celebrating his 79th birthday. Till was lynched at the age of 14 after being falsely accused of whistling at a white woman.

Today we are still dealing with racial violence, and white supremacy, and lynchings are still not a federal crime. #EmmettTill

So rand paul's 'libertarian' stance is really just another racist cover. Not surprised actually because a lot of 'libertarians' are racist is hell now that I think about it.
